GLODEP

European partners : Palacky University, Olomouc, Czech republic, coordinator, University of Pavia, Italy, University of Clermont Auvergne

Other academic Partners : Catholic University of Madagascar, University of Bethlehem, Royal University of Buthan, University of Rwanda, Atatürk Ataloo University Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan.

Non academic Partners : People in Need, Czech Republic, GLOPOLIS, Czech Republic ; ALDA – European Association for Local Democracy, France ; PDCS – Partners for Democratic Change Slovakia, Slovakia ; EDI Group, UK and East Africa ; COOPI – Cooperazione Internazionale, Italy ; CISP – The International Committee for the Development of Peoples, Italy ; VIS – International Volunteer Service for Development, Italy ; UNIMED – the Mediterranean Universities Union, Italy.

Degree structure : It consists in a two-year multidisciplinary master program in development studies, with an economic grounding and policy perspective. GLODEP has a fixed structure: first semester at Palacky University (Olomouc, Czech Republic), second semester at the University Clermont Auvergne (Clermont-Ferrand, France) and third semester at the University of Pavia (Pavia, Italy). The fourth semester is dedicated to an internship or research stay, preferably with one of the fourteen associated partners of the consortium (see Academic Associates and Non-Academic Associates); and to thesis writing.

Degree objectives : The aim of GLODEP is to prepare professionals in the field of development policy and practice. GLODEP provides the students with comprehensive knowledge and skills to analyze development issues and to design and promote development policies at national, regional and international levels. GLODEP has two defining features. First, it links the areas of development studies and development economics, offering insights from economics and other fields, such as geography, environmental studies, and political science. Second, the applied character of the program is reflected in the course contents where the policy (project) dimension is emphasized.
